GEM

The gender empowerment index was found in a Human Development Report of India. There is data for 1981 and 1991.

Because GEM is no longer produced it is unlikely that more recent data will be found at the subnational level.

GiniExtended

Gini coefficients for India's states was found in a Human Development Report of India and there is data for 1983, 1993, and 1999.

Labor%Female

The percentage of females in the labor force was in the first iteration of the subnational model of India without citation. The origins of this data are unknown. The series has data for 2000 and 2011. A known and updated source for this data is needed.
